GATEWAY

Hungarian-Chinese Exchange Program

OVERVIEW

The Gateway Hungarian-Chinese Exchange Program is designed for undergraduate and graduate students from Chinese universities, offering a one-semester curriculum entirely in English. It introduces key areas of law, international relations, political science, and industrial relations, emphasizing European and global perspectives, with a focus on Hungarian experiences. Students improve their legal vocabulary and communication skills through practical legal English courses. Additionally, guest lectures by government officials, academics, and experts cover contemporary legal, economic, and political issues.
